

Thank you for purchasing your self-study from NMCDLA.

- Check your inbox for an email with the subject line “This is Your Self-Study Download.” If it is not in your inbox, please be sure to check your junk folder as well.
- Please follow the link from Hightail to download your self-study recording and corresponding materials.
- Please be sure to download your files in the next 14 days, as the link above will expire then. If your link expires, please let me know.
- The video files are large and may take some time to download depending on your internet speed. If your download is taking a long time, close any programs you are not using as this will free up your bandwidth.
- Once the files have been downloaded, go to your Downloads folder (or wherever you saved the files); files in zip folders will need to be extracted first, which can be done by right clicking on the zip folder and selecting “Extract all...”
- An MCLE request form for self-study credits is also included with all downloads (you can also download this form directly from the NM-MCLE website). In Part D, you do not need to include a certificate of completion, please just include the receipt sent to you by PayPal as proof of purchase when you file your credits with MCLE.
